

HAROLD FIDLER IS ACQUITTED OF DRUNK DRIVING

Harold L. Fidler, Aspers R. 1, was acquitted by an Adams County jury this morning of a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants. At the same time the jury directed that he pay the costs in the case.

The jury spent 55 minutes in reaching its verdict. It retired at 9:45 a.m. after hearing the charge by Judge W. C. Sheely and returned with its verdict at 10:40 o'clock. The case was brought against Fidler by the local fire police.

In another case being heard this morning by another jury, an Iron Springs store proprietress told how she talked and argued with three "robbers" until they fled the establishment—and paid for the article they ordered before they left.

Third On Trial Later

The case was the charge of assault with intent to rob, armed assault with accomplices with intent to rob and burglary brought against Edward Wetzel, Emmitsburg R. 1, and George Wetzel, York. Another defendant in the same case, James Willis, of Emmitsburg, was not being tried with the other two because of a technicality. Sentenced in Maryland on another charge, he has not as yet had a hearing on the matter, and will be tried later.

Mrs. Julia Entenmann, Fairfield R. 1, the Iron Springs store proprietress, told how three men had entered her store about noon, March 28. She followed them in. One asked for cheese, and as she was slicing the cheese, another pointed something in his coat pocket at her and said "Where is the money?" Mrs. Entenmann continued cutting the cheese, and argued that she had no money. This, she said, continued for about five minutes while she told the three men they had better leave before someone else came into the store.

Pay For Cheese And Leave

Finally the man who had ordered the cheese paid for it and all left in a hurry. She identified the three as the two Wetzels and Willis. A number of other witnesses were called including Christian Entenmann, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Reese, Luther Allamond and Clyde Sanders, all of the Iron Springs area.

The various other witnesses told of seeing a car driving in the area before the alleged attempted robbery. Mrs. Reese said the appearance of the car with the men in it and with its license covered with a white cloth so frightened her that she locked her home in case they planned to burglarize her place.

Vincent Reese testified that George Wetzel was one of those in the car with the covered license plate. He said he knows Wetzel and his car, and noted the covered license plate at the "casing" of the Entenmann store while eating his lunch along the road near where he was working on a water line.

Firemen Testify

The Fidler case went to the jury this morning about 10 o'clock. Testimony was presented Wednesday afternoon. A number of Gettysburg firemen gave details of the actions of the defendant on the night of July 22 when he allegedly backed into a fire truck and then "chased" the fire truck to Gettysburg, following closely behind it, making a U-turn, go-

Brownell Calls National Lawyer's Guild Subversive

BOSTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today described the National Lawyers Guild as the legal mouthpiece for the Communist party and announced he proposed to put it on his list of subversive organizations.

Brownell made the announcement in an address prepared for the American Bar Assn. in convention here.

He said he had, earlier in the day, served notice on the guild of its proposed inclusion on the list which the government uses in checking the affiliations of federal workers in relation to their loyalty and security.

The notice means the guild has 10 days in which to ask for a hearing, if it desires to present evidence on why the organization should not go on the list.

The Brownell announcement followed adoption by the ABA House of Delegates of a resolution declaring that Communists should be barred from the legal profession in this country.

It was included in a speech devoted to broad policy pronouncements in which the new attorney general said:

1. The lawyer who leaves government service to join up with "the other side" in pending litigation against the United States with which he is familiar "commits a crime," and he has instructed the U. S. district attorneys to start a program of prosecutions in this field. Brownell asserted the law forbidding such activity within two years after leaving the government has never been enforced.

2. The Justice Department will continue a vigorous crackdown on the underworld through denaturalizations of racketeers with acquired citizenship, deportations of alien criminals, and stricter interpretations of the income tax laws designed to punish the syndicated hoodlums.

3. The department will seek legislation requiring communications companies to refuse telephone or telegraph service to those using these facilities for gambling purposes.

Deny India Seat At Truce Table

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—India failed today to win sufficient U. N. support to give her a seat at the Korean peace conference.

She received a majority of the votes cast in the 60-nation Political Committee, but fell short of the two-third majority required for approval by the General Assembly which acts tomorrow.

The vote was 27 for, 21 against, 11 abstaining and India not participating.

It was a victory for the United States, who had split with Britain and other Western allies over the issue and fought vigorously against India's inclusion.

DIRECTORS OF CREDIT BUREAU ARE ELECTED

The first "permanent" directors of the Credit Bureau of Adams County Inc. were elected Wednesday night at a meeting of the "temporary" board held at the bureau office, 154 E. Middle St.

Ballots sent in by the members were counted by the following temporary directors, Vice President Robert A. Codori, Stover Small, Earl M. Nace, William Boyer and Ernest Dulaney.

After the count determined the winners, the temporary board directed that notice be given to the new board members asking that they meet "as quickly as possible" to organize and begin to function.

The 14 directors elected were: Gettysburg, John Hewitt, Gettysburg National Bank; Robert C. Hartley, Thrift Loan Plan of Pennsylvania; William H. Musser Jr., Gettysburg Building Supply; Robert A. Codori, Citizens Oil; George M. Zerling, Zerling's Hardware and Roy W. Wentz, Wentz Furniture Store.

Others Elected

The two directors named by the members in the Littlestown area were listed, according to the ballots, as Littlestown State Bank and Littlestown National Bank. The banks will select their own representative.

M. L. Ditzler, of Ditzler's Furniture and Restaurant, and O. C. Rice and Son, farm implements, were elected from the Biglerville section. The members in the York Springs area chose Kennedy's Electrical Service as their representative on the board.

Sleighter's Furniture Store was elected to fill the director post from the Heidlersburg-New Oxford-Abbotstown section. John A. Shultz was named director from the Fairfield-Cashtown area and the East Berlin Flour and Feed Mill was named to represent the East Berlin area.

FIREMEN HAVE TWO CALLS IN THREE MINUTES

Gettysburg firemen were called to battle two fires within three minutes Wednesday afternoon.

At the first fire, reported at 4 o'clock, a 20 by 30 foot cow and stable barn on the property of Roy Swope, Hunterstown, was completely destroyed. The second fire, reported at 4:03 o'clock, was confined to a grass patch about 30 feet wide and 200 feet long, two miles east of here along the Bonneauville Rd.

Booster tanks were used by firemen to control both blazes.

A quantity of hardwood flooring, some equipment, and hay were destroyed along with the frame barn at the Swope home. Mrs. Swope, who said the fire appeared to have started in the hay mow, was able to remove a power mower from the barn before the flames drove her back and prevented her from moving any other articles. Mr. Swope, employed at Mechanicsburg, did not learn of the fire until his return from work.

Neighbor Calls Firemen

Mrs. Swope said she stepped out of the house "between 3:45 and 4 o'clock" and saw the barn afire. She sent her children to call the fire company, but they discovered that Walter Hyson, a neighbor, had seen the flames spurring from the barn and had run nearly two blocks to the nearest phone to call the firemen.

At the Swope property, the use of booster tanks, the only water immediately available, prevented the loss of the Swope home as well as the barn. The flames did reach the east side of the house, blistering the composition siding on the structure.

At the grass fire the firemen said the flames, besides destroying the grass, also burned several fence posts along the roadway.

Neighbor Calls Firemen

The two said approximately 400 volunteer spotters are needed for a 24-hour day operation of the post. More than 200 have already volunteered.

In their appeal for additional volunteers, Potts and Hershey said: "We have set our sights on being the first air raid warning station to be established in our county under Adam County's reorganized Ground Observers Corps. We have set September 1 as the date for the formal opening of our station. We feel that we have a nucleus of leaders and observers to man the station but we need more volunteers to fill out the schedule so that no one need serve but a minimum number of hours per month."

"Dangerous Times"

"Have you stopped to think why America needs you? These are dangerous times. Our potential enemy has the atom bomb and claims to have the hydrogen bomb. Wouldn't you devote a few hours a month to prevent any enemy from dropping a bomb on one of the many important targets in America? We feel certain you would, so sign up now. Help make the York Springs station a strong link in 'Operation Skywatch.' Every enemy plane spotted soon enough means a plane destroyed before it reaches its target. You could be the one person responsible for saving thousands of American lives."

HARVEST HOME SERVICES SET FOR EB CHARGE

Harvest Home Festival will be observed in the same manner as in previous years in the churches of the East Berlin Evangelical and Reformed pastoral charge. The Harvest Home services will be conducted in Emmanuel Church, Hampton, and Mt. Olivet Church, Bermudian, Sunday, and in St. Paul Union Church, Red Run, Sunday, September 6. The dates for the services to be conducted at Zwingle Church, East Berlin, and St. John Church, New Chester, which were previously postponed, will be announced later.

There will be a picnic for the Children's Division of the Church School of Zwingle Church, East Berlin, Friday at 6 o'clock. Plans for a program with refreshments for the children have been completed. The activities will take place on the church lawn.

Wide Radio Coverage

The station, owned and operated by the Times and News Publishing Company, houses studios, offices and a transmitter in a colonial style red-brick building a quarter mile north of the town limits on U. S. Rt. 15. Station coverage during the past year has been versatile, informative and entertaining judging from the spotcheck made by a representative of WGET today of broadcasts during that period. Coverages noted were the Gettysburg College and High School football games last fall and Gettysburg College basketball games. Some Biglerville games were also covered. Another highlight was Ike's election during which WGET led the major networks by 15 minutes.

At Christmas the station featured a Christmas party and a Santa Claus program sponsored by local automobile dealers. Both in November, 1952, and in January, 1953, the station cooperated with the Red Cross in the Blood Donor campaign. Professional band music went on the air April 14 and July 5 will be remembered for the Vice President Nixon coverage.

Additional highlights were the Pennsylvania Dutch Days, "I Was a Communist for the FBI" and the mock "air alert" in June when Gettysburg was "bombed."

Thomas Smith Is Committed To Jail

Thomas Smith, W. Middle St., formerly of Harrisburg, was committed to the county jail at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night by borough police on "suspicions of larceny."

Police said they are questioning the man on the theft of a flashlight from one car and $75 from another while the vehicles were parked in Race Horse Alley near the silk mill.

A commitment was issued this morning by Justice John H. Basehore. A charge of larceny probably will be placed later by local police before the justice.

MANY SPOTTERS ARE NEEDED IN YORK SPRINGS

L. E. Potts and M. S. Hershey, chief observer and assistant, respectively, for the York Springs spotter post, today appealed for additional observers to man the stations which will go into operation September 1.

BULBAR POLIO REPORTED IN GIRL'S DEATH

While the cause of death of five-year-old Sherry Ann Taylor, Aspers, who died suddenly Wednesday morning, has not been finally determined, Dr. Raymond M. Hale Jr., Arendtsville, the family physician, said that it was almost certainly "bulbar polio."

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner said laboratory examinations, which will be completed about Saturday, are expected to give a final answer on the cause of death. An autopsy was performed Wednesday afternoon by Dr. C. Harold Johnson.

In the meantime, the county coroner said, an observation quarantine has been placed on the Taylor home pending the outcome of the laboratory tests.

Precautionary Measure

He also said that funeral services, to be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, will be "strictly private, and no one under the age of 16 will be allowed to attend."

Dr. Crist said the quarantine and the banning of children from the funeral were "to be observed strictly," adding however that the bans were placed "as a precautionary and preventative measure."

The child had become ill Monday evening and was taken to a physician Tuesday afternoon. She apparently was suffering from a slight cold and rested comfortably Tuesday afternoon and night. Wednesday morning she became ill again and was taken immediately to the physician's office where she died about 15 minutes after her arrival.

Bulbar polio is the most vicious killer of the various types. It paralyzes the breathing muscles and it is mainly these patients who are treated in iron lungs.

This is the first polio case in Adams County this year.

Man Ends Life

BY HANGING IN HANOVER BARN

Arthur L. Myers, 58, a veteran of World War I, was found dead Wednesday morning in a barn at the rear of his home, 575 Broadway, Hanover, by a daughter, Mrs. Jean Luckenbaugh. She reported to York County Coroner Lester J. Sell that her father's body was suspended from the noose of a rope fastened to an overhead rafter and that he had a bullet wound in his mouth. Sell listed the tragedy a suicide.

The victim apparently stood on a chair and from this position fired a shot from a newly acquired 22 caliber pistol. The bullet entered his mouth. The shot caused him to fall from the chair causing the noose to tighten around his neck.

Myers, an employee of the Keystone Wire Cloth Company, Hanover, was said to have been depressed since the death of his wife, Mrs. Helen Luckenbaugh Myers, in June of 1952. Recently he had also been in ill health.

Funeral On Friday

He is survived by three children, Mrs. Luckenbaugh, at home; Mrs. Ralph Manger, Hanover, and Arthur L. Myers Jr., New Oxford; three grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Delton Shaffer, Lineboro, Md. R. 1; Miss Annie Shaffer, New Oxford, and Miss Sarah Shaffer, Harrisburg. He was a member of Harold H. Bair Post 14, American Legion, and Trinity Reformed Church. During World War I he served with Headquarters Company, 304th Engineer Battalion of the Seventy-ninth Division.

Funeral services at 10 a.m. Friday at the William A. Feiser Funeral Home, Hanover, conducted by the Rev. H. E. Sheeley, Interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Kindergarten To Open September 8

Mrs. J. B. Collins will open her kindergarten at 75 E. Broadway Tuesday morning, September 8, at 9 o'clock. There will be an open house at her home Friday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock when she will receive her prospective pupils, their parents, and anyone interested in the kindergarten program. She will be assisted by Mrs. Edward A. Hughes, 240 Chambersburg St., who plans to assist in the kindergarten this year, and Miss Margaret C. Howard, 28 E. High St., who taught kindergarten in Gettysburg for a number of years, and who has retired from the teaching position.

Mrs. Collins, who received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Hood College, Frederick, Md., has done graduate work at Pennsylvania State College. She has had ten years' teaching experience in Pennsylvania, mostly in Adams County.

Girl Scout Troop 4, of which Mrs. Collins is the leader, will assist in entertaining the children at the open house.

Planes Collide At 11,000 Feet; 57 Are Unhurt

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Two commercial air liners, carrying a total of 57 persons, collided last night at 11,000 feet, but pilots landed them safely and no one was injured.

The planes, twin-engine Convairs from American Air Lines and United Air Lines, had left Chicago about a minute apart. The collision over Michigan City, about 60 miles east, occurred about 25 minutes later. Both planes were slightly damaged.

The collision ripped a three-foot hole in the tail section of the American plane while the UAL airliner was punctured on top of the fuselage between the pilot's cabin and the passenger area.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Some trees are their own hangmen. They strangle themselves with their own roots. Many street trees as well as fine lawn specimens commit suicide every year. Tree owners often are unaware of the tragedies slowly taking place. The above deaths can be averted, if surgery is given in time, according to a tree expert. Hari-kari is noticeably common among Norway maples. But red maples, sugar maples, elms, oaks, horsechestnuts, planetrees and many others may die by their own hand, or rather, roots, too.

Unfortunately, tree lovers do not spot abnormalities because frequently the girdling, or strangling, roots are out of sight, below the ground surface. The strangling roots wrap themselves around the trunk or other roots and exert gradually increasing pressure as they grow in diameter. The victim finally expires if circulation is greatly impeded or stopped entirely.

There are usually indications of the trouble, although the only proof positive is root examination. Weak tree top growth, poor bark development or pronounced swelling at the trunk base sometimes are clues.

Fairfield And Emmitsburg Banks Fleeced Of $1,500 By Farm-Buying Swindler

Police of two states together with FBI agents are hot on the trail of a "hit and run" phony cashier's check artist who Wednesday fleeced two area banks of $1,500.

Maryland State Police reported that the man, giving his name as Stanton P. Snyder, aged between 35 and 40, Wednesday morning defrauded the Farmers State Bank, of Emmitsburg, with a bogus cashier's check.

Snyder presented the cashier's check ostensibly to open an account. In the same transaction he succeeded in withdrawing $1,000 from the new account having represented himself as just having purchased a farm across the Pennsylvania line and requiring more pocket cash than he had on hand. Following the withdrawal, Snyder sauntered off with the $1,000.

Fleeces Fairfield Bank

Skipping over the Pennsylvania line, Snyder next presented himself at the Fairfield National Bank about noon Wednesday. He told attendants at the bank that he was a poultry farmer planning to buy a farm in that section and that he wanted to open an account. He displayed a "cashier's check" for $3,500 drawn on the Central State Bank, Hutchinson, Kansas, and said he wanted to deposit the check and open an account for $3,000 and wanted to keep $500 in cash for a down payment on the farm.

The Fairfield bank obliged and gave him an account book showing he had $3,000 on deposit and the $500 in cash.

No Bank Account

Later, officials became suspicious and called the Hutchinson bank. The call disclosed that "Stanton P. Snyder" had no account there, but that he had been active in several sections cashing checks drawn on the Central State Bank. They said that he had apparently made a rubber stamp permitting him to simulate the appearance of a cashier's check from the Central State Bank. They reported also that "Snyder" had been active in Dauphin county on Tuesday.

Fairfield officials then called the state police, who checked other area banks. About this time the Maryland State Police called to warn the Pennsylvania Troopers that "Snyder" had attempted to cash a check at the Thurmont Bank.

Active Elsewhere

Other calls reporting activity on "Snyder's" part were received from Mercersburg, where "Snyder" had turned up Wednesday morning, and the Dutch Cupboard, Baltimore St., which reported finding account books in the water tank of the lavatory. The books carried the name "Stanton P. Snyder" and had been received from "new accounts" in several Dauphin County banks.

Maryland State Police report that "Snyder," a busy burglar had failed at the Thurmont Bank on Wednesday when the cashier became suspicious of his nervousness and decided to investigate. While he was busy authenticating the bogus cashier's check, the man disappeared. He then called the Maryland police.

Mercury Rises To 94 Degrees

Wednesday, Warmest Of Month

The weatherman turned on the heat Wednesday, pushing the mercury in the official thermometer on The Gettysburg Times roof to 94 degrees, the warmest day this month and the warmest August 26 since 1948.

However the thermometer reading Wednesday was "cool" compared to the blistering 100 degrees recorded on the same date five years ago.

Wednesday's temperature marked it as the warmest day since July 21, when a 96 was recorded.

The current warm, dry period corresponds to a similar warm dry period in 1948. Monday's maximum was 90, Tuesday 93 and Wednesday 94. And according to the long range weather report, it will remain hot and dry through the coming week-end.

August 24, 1948, showed a 94, the next day a 99, the next day it hit the 100 mark. Five years ago today a 97 was recorded, the next day was a 96, followed by a 92, and then, like most August heat waves, the weather broke, and the thermometer was able to record only a 79 top on August 30, 1948.

This week's temperature readings seem to be following the same pattern as that warm week five years ago. The similar weeks for the four years in between showed comfortable readings in which the highs were mostly in the 80s and seldom reached the 90-degree mark.

TWO COMPANIES CALLED FRONTS BY PCA OFFICER

The Pennsylvania Canners Association has charged that two companies listing Hanover canneries in national directories are incorrectly representing themselves as packers of state products.

The PCA secretary, Charles W. York, said neither has a Hanover cannery or office and that the association "has reason to believe" that both companies—the National Canners and Packers Exchange and the Associated Canners Cooperative—are "fronts" for the same man or group of men operating out of New York.

Doubts Ethical Purpose

"The association does not believe that their purpose is consistent with the ethical standards of the Pennsylvania industry. Opportunity has been given both companies to refute these arguments. They have not done so."

"Therefore, the PCA wishes it known that these companies are not canners and packers of Pennsylvania products. They are not representative of the Pennsylvania canning industry, and they do not represent either the businesses or the products as they purport to do."

List Products

National Canners and Packers Exchange represents itself in the directories as having canneries at Hanover and Elmer, N. J., and lists P. O. Box 202, York, as its address. It lists nine vegetable and vegetable products packed in Pennsylvania. Paul Allen is given as operator.

Associated Canners Cooperative, according to the directory listings, has canneries at Hanover and in many other states, represents A. Clark as operator, and gives addresses of P. O. Box 147, Hanover, and Manchester, N. Y. Nine canned vegetables or products also are listed.

No Records

York, in his message to PCA members, secretaries of state and national associations and trade papers, said an investigation disclosed no cannery or office in Hanover or vicinity; no record of either company in regular financial or credit channels, and no record of a state license or Pictitious Names Act compliance.

It was further discovered, according to the PCA release, that the York and Hanover addresses are merely forwarding ones, and that registered letters for both companies were picked up at Canal Street station, New York 13, N. Y., by B. Conn for Associated Canners and P. Negro for National Canners and Packers.

WATCHDOG BILL DISCARDED BY GOVERNOR FINE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A plan to set up a watchdog committee to keep the General Assembly posted on budget and financial affairs was in the discard today following a veto by Gov. John S. Fine.

The measure, which would have set up a 12-man committee of legislators, was one of 27 bills rejected by Fine before the midnight deadline for final action.

Fine turned down the plan on grounds it would "duplicate much of the work of the budget office and of the appropriations committees of the House and Senate."

The governor said in a statement accompanying his veto:

"The issuance of financial reports is obviously an executive function. Yet this bill would require the committee to furnish reports at least quarterly showing in details the exact status of the biennial budget with regard to revenues and expenditures."

Need Large Staff

"To compile this information would require the services of a large staff and the duplication of the work of many state departments and bureaus."

Fine also pointed out that the bill carried a $25,000 appropriation for which no provision was made in the 1953-55 budget.

The governor rejected a bill sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn. to extend the protection of privilege from libel suits to statements by public officials as long as they concern their official duties.

He explained his action this way:

"This purpose would appear to be a laudable one. However, it is questionable whether the bill effectively accomplishes what it proposes to do. Furthermore, in many respects it is ambiguous and uncertain and may well serve only to confuse the law relating to defamation, a degree which would defeat the very purpose of the bill."

Other Bills Rejected

Other rejected bills would have: Required each borough, town and township maintaining a police force to establish a police pension fund or pension annuity.

Required approval of the General Assembly on Highways Department proposals to make limited access highways of any road over five miles long.

Increased the annual payment of 2½ cents per acre to six cents paid by the state to counties on lands used as state forests, game lands, fish and recreation areas and flood control projects.

Increased the membership of county school boards from five to seven members if desired by the individual counties.

Allowed reimbursements to the sublessee of school property under a lease with the State Public School Building Authority.

Validated contracts let by municipal authorities in which an architect employed by the authority plays a part.

Permitted the operation of motorboats with a maximum six horsepower engine on Lake Pymatuning in Northwest Pennsylvania.

Constructed a replica of the "castle" of Ole Bull, famed Norwegian violinist and colonist in Potter County.

Increased the fees charged by the probthonary and recorder of deeds of Allegheny County.

Established minimum salaries for instructors at Thaddeus Stevens Trade School, Lancaster, and the Scotland School for Veterans' Children, Franklin County.

Permitted boroughs to go before any justice of the peace or alderman in the same county to recover fines.

Permitted the highways secretary to withhold 10 per cent of construction contracts pending completion of 95 per cent of the work.

Provided for the appointment of the board of visitations in Philadelphia to inspect institutions, societies and associations caring for dependent, neglected or delinquent children.

Given the State Board of Optometrical Examiners the power to suspend or revoke an optometrist's license because of "grossly unethical conduct."

Increased from $50 to $300 the limit on cost of articles that the State Property and Supplies Department could purchase without competitive bids.

Given Pittsburgh and Scranton firemen 14 working days' vacation with pay and 24 consecutive hours of rest each week except in emergencies.

Countian Faces Mandatory Charge

Lee D. Byers, 28, of New Oxford R. 1, a truck driver who figured in a fatal highway accident at Flemington, N. J., early Tuesday, was arranged on a manslaughter charge Tuesday afternoon before Magistrate Jacob Chantz, of Flemington.

Byers, who is free on $500 bail, was prosecuted by New Jersey State Police after his truck, the property of the Alwine Brick Company, New Oxford, collided with an automobile driven by Private Jere B. Sullivan, 22, a soldier from Lancaster, Sullivan, who was en route to his home from Fort Tilden, N. Y., died several hours after the crash in the Hunterdon Medical Center, Flemington.

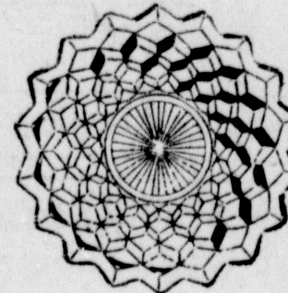

State Police said that Sullivan apparently dozed at the wheel of his auto while driving west on Route 202 and sideswiped Byers' truck traveling toward New York. The officers indicated that the manslaughter charge is mandatory in deaths caused in highway traffic accidents.

Increase In Gas Rates Approved

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some 10,000 Northern Pennsylvania customers of the North Penn Gas Co., Port Allegany, will begin paying higher gas rates next Tuesday.

The Public Utility Commission yesterday authorized the utility to lift its charges by an estimated $251,000 a year. It means gas will cost two cents more per thousand cubic feet for consumers in McKean, Potter, Tioga, Venango, Clarion, Forest, Jefferson and Bradford counties.

The higher rates were sought because of the higher price North Penn is paying for gas.

Littlestown Street Will Be Resurfaced To Extend Over Water Table; Patch Street

Members of the Littlestown Borough Council met for a two and one half hour session Tuesday evening in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefe, N. Queen St. President Roscoe W. Rittase presided. Secretary Keefe read his monthly report. Councilman Charles M. Frock, chairman of the street committee, reported that the resurfacing of Lumber St. had been started by Rife, Inc. It was also announced that some mistake was made in ordering bituminous material for patching. When the material arrived the street surface had not been made ready. Leroy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, was suggested that where the water table is raised higher than the street, it should be removed. It was agreed that the cost of the additional work involved, other than that originally contracted for, would be paid by the borough. After an estimate of the cost of the work is submitted to the highway committee, and if agreeable to the committee, further work will be done. Councilman Frock stated, if agreeable to council, he will instruct the contractor to resurface the street from curb-to-curb, to extend over the entire water table. Council, approved and further agreed to pay the additional cost for spreading the stone with a temple spreader, which cost would be over and above 50 cents per ton which the borough had contracted to pay for hauling into the borough.

ORDER IMPROVEMENTS

Burgess Herbert J. Motter reported that sinking around the last sewer manhole on James Ave. was in need of patching and the street committee was instructed to have the necessary work done as soon as possible. The secretary reported that some additional cast iron fittings had been ordered to replace those recently used in extending the water main on W. Myrtle St. This was approved. It was also reported that a fire hydrant on the south east corner of M and Cemetery Sts. had recently been broken off by a tractor trailer owned by Harris Express, Inc., Charlotte, N. C. Replacement of the hydrant is now in progress. The purchase of cast iron pipe for replenishing the depleted stock was discussed and the matter was tabled until later in the year.

Two water permits were issued as follows: Harold O. and Mary K. Sentz, 25 Walnut St., for miscellaneous household uses; Lewis L. Cramer, 209 N. Queen St., for additional outside uses, as per ordinance.

EXTEND SEWER LINE

It was reported to council that when the addition to the Alpha fire building was constructed and the additional portion of the roof was built there was probably some defect in joining the roof with the old and a leak was known to exist causing rain to enter the building. It was decided to contact I. H. Crouse and Sons to check and repair the roof.

Secretary Keefe reported that work has been completed on the construction of sanitary sewer mains on Rita Marie Ave., except for the back filling and laying of one lateral where rock was encountered. Because less rock was encountered than anticipated, it was decided to use the saving to extend the sanitary sewer facilities from the present terminus on Pennsylvania Ave. to Delaware Ave. at W. Myrtle St. This extension will be completed when the manhole is constructed. It took two days for the extension of 365 ft. It was further agreed that the sanitary sewer mains be constructed to ex-

All school cross-walks were ordered repainted. Council discussed the laying of sanitary sewer laterals at new properties from the properties to the curb line and where there are no sanitary sewer facilities available. It was agreed that in the future "no sanitary sewer laterals will be installed from the cellar of any property to the curb line unless there are sewer facilities available."

Kappes, North Stratton street, were married Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, York, at the Baker summer home on Marsh creek.

The bridegroom has been employed at Harris Brothers' store for ten years. The bride has been employed at the Eagle silk mill. They will reside at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Hoffman, McSherrytown, were married at a nuptial mass at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock.

L. Harbaugh, Fairfield, on Friday.

Harbaugh was taken to his parental home in Fairfield Thursday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strickhouser, near White run, where he spent Wednesday night. Meanwhile the drowning victim's husband, Benjamin Aurandt, 68, and Harbaugh's wife, both of whom were saved after Harbaugh's light coach-type automobile stalled in three feet of water on the north approach to White run bridge, have returned to Altoona.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TIRE SOME REST
I've tried that idling under trees
And found a day or two of ease
And dreaming, although still awake,
Was all the rest that I could take.

I had the notion in my head
It would be nice to stay in bed.
But when an illness laid me low
I quickly learned it wasn't so.

A nap each afternoon seemed good
Take that the doctor said I should.
But I discovered very soon
I'd grown to dread the afternoon.

When work has left the body tired
Sleep is the medicine required.
But do what doctors wish suggest
And quickly you'll get tired of rest.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THINGS RARELY NOTICED
We have knowledge, unharvested wealth, heroism, courage, hidden beauty, and concealed wonders, all about us—but only rarely noticed. How do we know what is in people's minds while they are silent? Yet it is then that we misjudge others most. We imagine their thoughts, emotions and intentions.

How kind we are to people whom we understand and who understand us. The people who hurt us most are those who have no acquaintance with our inner life—and it's this life that is the greater part of our existence. Nature's secrets and wonders will be with us forever. In a long lifetime only a very few will we ever know. But there they are just the same. I wish I knew all about the origin of color in all our flowers and among our feathered friends. The predominating color in nature is green. You can't think of any other color that could take its place. It is perfect. Every other color glows from this background. A dozen white daisies in a field almost dominate it!

The simplest thing, viewed under the microscope, introduces us to a new world. With our most powerful telescopes only a very small segment of the universe is revealed. The night firmament of stars that sweep across the sky are mostly strangers to us. And how little we know about the ones to whom we have given a name.

Pluck a maple leaf. Put it toward the sun or an electric lamp. You will be looking upon one of the most beautiful and intricate designs in all this world. Perfect in proportion, beautiful in design—and each leaf exactly the same in structure. Note its circulatory system with the finest of lines like canals, leading to all parts of the leaf, and the almost invisible little paths that unite to give the leaf life with the sap from the trunk of the tree, through the branches and then into the leaf itself. It's one of God's miracles!

Life should never be dull for anyone. More wonderful things go unnoticed than any of us ever learns in a lifetime.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Medicine Of Silence."

Cumberland To Get New Judgeship

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation creating a new Common Pleas Court judgeship in Cumberland County was signed into law yesterday by Gov. John S. Fine.

Under the law, the governor has the power to make an interim appointment until Jan. 1, 1956.

The office will be filled by the voters in the November, 1955, municipal election. The judge will then serve a 10-year term, beginning in 1956.

Commenting on provision for a second judge in Cumberland County, Fine said that the county "has too much legal business for one judge."

Retired Banker Has Church Record

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Dan Graves, 79-year-old pioneer school teacher and retired banker of Gatesville, figures he has spent a total of two years and two days of his life in church.

He has been a resident member of the First Baptist church here for 57 years.

Graves also calculates he has spent 311 days shaving—mostly getting ready to go to church.

Athletics Given Credit For Placing Chisox Far Back In Pennant Race

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Want to know one of the big reasons why the Chicago White Sox are languishing 10½ games back in second place today instead of fighting it out with the New York Yankees for the American League pennant?

The answer is none other than the poor, old Philadelphia Athletics, managed by former White Sox skipper Jimmy Dykes and loaded with a bunch of ex-Pale Hose players who are coming back to haunt Paul Richards and his hirelings.

The A's have beaten the Sox 12 times against 8 losses. On the other hand, they've won only 5 from the Yanks and dropped 15. If the White Sox had been able to do as well against the A's as the Yanks did, they'd be just 3½ games out of first place.

In the last two days, White Sox castoffs have taken care of their former mates very emphatically. Yesterday, the A's beat the Sox 10-8.

Robinson Homers
Who did the bombarding? Eddie Robinson, who was traded for Ferris Fain during the winter, hit a home run and Dave Philley, who put in four campaigns with the Sox, hit a home run and two triples to knock in two runs.

The day before yesterday, the A's beat the Sox 4-2. Gus Zernial, who once labored for the Sox, hit two home runs and Philley hit one. Earlier in the season, Cass Michaels, who wore a White Sox uniform seven years, and shortstop Joe de Maestri, another ex-Chicago player, came up with home runs that hurt the Windy City boys in the standings.

The White Sox protested yesterday's loss because Philley was given a triple when pitcher Mike Fornieles' glove flew off his hand while he was trying to field a grounder. The rules give a batter an automatic triple if a fielder throws his glove at the ball. The Sox claimed the ball knocked Fornieles' glove off.

Fornieles was knocked out in the fifth and took the loss while Alex Kellner, who went eight innings for the A's, got credit for the triumph.

Other Results
Elsewhere in the American League, the Yanks nipped the Detroit Tigers 5-4 and the Cleveland Indians polished off the Washington Senators 9-5. The St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox were not scheduled.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs pummeled the Brooklyn Dodgers 13-4; the New York Giants clobbered the St. Louis Cardinals by an identical 13-4, and the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Milwaukee Braves 6-5 in the only night game of the day. The Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Redlegs had the day off.

Vic Raschi made his second appearance of the year as a relief pitcher in the Yanks' victory over the Tigers and fought his way out of three late-inning jams. The Yanks were leading 4-2 in the seventh when Raschi took over for Tom Gorman, who had relieved Johnny Sain, the winner.

Four home runs by the Indians made the task of Dave Hoskin and Art Houtteman easy. Harry Simpson, Jim Hegan, Larry Doby and George Strickland all hit for the circuit against the Nats and their blows accounted for six runs.

Dodgers Lose
The Cub-Dodgers game was fairly close until the Bruins erupted for six runs in the eighth. That spelled fiasco for the Brooks. Turk Lown, who held the Dodgers in check after relieving Bubba Church in the fifth, was the winner. Billy Loes was the victim.

Jim (Dusty) Rhodes was the big slugger of the day for the Giants. The utility outfielder hit three home runs — the first time this season a major leaguer has been able to accomplish the feat. Al Dark collected five hits in the massacre of five Card pitchers.

Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty teamed to tame the Braves for the Phils. The winners collected 16 hits, including a two-run homer by Del Ennis. The defeat left the Braves trailing the Dodgers by nine games.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—Sabette ($4.20) captured the 73rd running of the Alabama Stakes at Saratoga.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Late Model ($5.80) posted her first victory in the feature race at Atlantic City.

PAWTUCKET, R. I.—Tony Desposito returned to the saddle at Narragansett Park and booted home three winners including Soldier Son ($6.00) in the feature race.

MARY FAULK IS TOP FAVORITE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Miss Faulk, a 26-year-old Thomaston, Ga., girl who works in her father's automobile agency when she isn't playing in tournaments, is one of the most popular of the top-flight golfers. And she still has to win a "big" one although she has taken a lot of fairly important tournaments and went to the semifinals of the British Women's Championship last spring.

When she started practicing for this tournament, she thought the 6,371-yard Rhode Island Country Club course was too long—especially some of those 480-plus yards par 4s.

One Who Broke Par
"But Tuesday I started to go after the ball more and found my swing with my wood clubs and began playing pretty well," she said.

That was a notable understatement. She was the only player who had broken par of 38 on the front nine until Cookie Swift of Great Neck, N. Y., did it with a 37 yesterday afternoon, and just a few minutes later Miss Faulk came in with a 35, the best nine-hole score of the tournament.

That carried her to a 4 and 2 victory over a former champion, Mrs. Mary A. Porter of Manoa, Pa. Mrs. Porter, winner in 1949, played pretty good golf, too. She was only one over par for 15 holes, then she skied a shot out of a trap clear over the 16th green, into a hedge and out of bounds to end the match.

Driver Is Killed When Tank Explodes
YORK, Pa. (P)—Leo D. Stevenson, 35, of Broad Top, Huntingdon County, burned to death when the gasoline tanker he was driving rolled off Route 111 and exploded into flames.

Stevenson was thrown from the cab when the accident occurred yesterday 10 miles north of York but he was caught in the fire fed by 300 gallons of gas that demolished the truck.

Witnesses told police the truck went out of control on a curve, hit a rock overhanging from a road side ledge, bounced across the road and overturned in a gully.

21 Cars Of Coal Are Derailed
RICHLAND, Pa. (P)—Many tons of coal were strewn about the country side today by derailment of an eastbound Reading Railroad freight train near Richland, about eight miles from Lebanon. No one was injured.

Twenty-one cars of an 88-car freight train left the rails shortly before midnight, blocking both eastbound and westbound rails.

A Reading Co. spokesman said that a defective journal box in one of the derailed cars was believed responsible for the pileup.

The eastbound tracks were expected to be re-opened to traffic before noon and repairs completed to the westbound tracks later in the day.

16 INJURED AT TRACK WHEN 4 BENCHES FALL

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (P)—Cheering fans set off a chain reaction at Hagerstown race track yesterday that caused four benches to topple to the concrete concourse sending 16 persons to the hospital for treatment and observation.

Two of the 16 remained at Washington County Memorial Hospital overnight. A Baltimore newsman present at the track estimated that about 25 more were shaken up in the melee but were not taken to the hospital.

The accident happened during the eighth race. Fans standing and sitting on the last of four benches went into action to cheer the favorites with such gusto that the bench fell forward.

As it did, it spilled the other three benches in succession "like a pile of dominoes," according to a witness.

Some Hospitalized
Track guards rushed to the scene to extract spectators from the benches.

Kept overnight at the hospital were Mrs. Marie T. Camberdell, 49, of Baltimore, who suffered severe contusions of the legs, and Mrs. Catherine C. Romayne, 57, of Washington, who had a possible fractured vertebra and injuries of the right ankle and knee.

The hospital said the other injured who were released after x-rays were taken included:

QUEEN HOPEFUL WINS BIG RACE

CHICAGO (P)—Is Hasty House Farm taking the starring role in racing that the famed Calumet Farm formerly occupied on American tracks?

Hasty House Farm's brilliant Queen Hopeful yesterday completed a grand slam of summer racing for 2-year-old fillies by winning the $107,490 Princess Pat Stakes at Washington Park. The dark bay champion picked up $68,320 for Hasty House Farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Toledo, Ohio, to boost her earnings in 10 1953 starts to $155,423.

In the Princess Pat field of 13 none bore the once-proud colors of Lexington, Kentucky's Calumet Farm. In fact, the only big event Calumet has won so far in the Chicago area is the $15,000 Pollyanna Stakes at Arlington Park.

Queen Hopeful, ridden by Jockey Johnny Adams, stepped the six furlongs in 1:11, two seconds off the track record. Rex Ellsworth's Chorus Khal was second and Darroll off Route 111 and exploded into flames.

Stevenson was thrown from the cab when the accident occurred yesterday 10 miles north of York but he was caught in the fire fed by 300 gallons of gas that demolished the truck.

FOUR TEAMS IN SEMI-FINALS OF LITTLE LEAGUE

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (P)—Teams from Alabama, Virginia, New York and Pennsylvania battled today for the two passes into the championship game of the 1953 Little League Baseball World Series.

Schenectady, N. Y., went against Camp Hill, Pa., in the first semi-final and Front Royal, Va., took on Birmingham, Ala., in the second.

The winner of the 7th annual tournament for the 8-12 year old ballplaying class will be decided tomorrow in a game to be broadcast nationally and filmed for television presentation this weekend (both CBS).

Front Royal and Birmingham clinched semifinal berths yesterday by downing Vancouver, B. C., and Joliet, Ill., in the final first round matches.

Play Extra Innings
The Virginians were forced to go two extra innings before grinding out a 3-2 victory. Pitcher Sam Cooksey slammed the winning hit, a single through the middle to drive in teammate Mike Berryman in the eighth inning.

Two hits in the fourth gave the team from Canada its second run and a tie. It was the third extra inning affair of the four first round games.

The Birmingham Little Leaguers made good use of three hits and the 13 walks they received to take an easier 6-1 decision from Joliet. Joliet gathered four hits but never scored until the last inning when Doug Spesia hit a home run.

Breaks Record
Tuesday Camp Hill shattered a record that had stood since the first series in 1947 by walloping Little Rock, Ark., 17-3. Schenectady defeated North Newton, Mass., 3-2, in extra innings.

Yesterday's line scores:
First game
Front Royal 001 000 01-3-3-3
Vancouver 001 000 00-2-2-0
Cooksey and M. Berryman, Douglass, Carle (8) and Archer.

Second game
Joliet 000 001-1-4-2
Birmingham 002 13x-6-3-2
Zeich, McCarthy (4), Stabovick (5) and McCabe; Sims and Thaxton.

Bullets Given 8th Spot In Ratings
Gettysburg College's 1952 football team is ranked eighth in the 1952 standings of the 46 small colleges of the state in the ratings announced today by Roger B. Saylor, Penn State College statistician.

West Chester received top ranking with F. and M. second. Other Bullet opponents were ranked as follows: Bucknell, sixth; Albright, 14th; Lehigh, 16th; Lebanon Valley, 17th; Muhlenberg, 25th, and Dickinson, 27th.

Last year's Bullet team won six and lost three.

Major college standings were as follows: Penn State, Pittsburgh, Villanova and Penn.

Aussies Erect Atomic Shelter
CANBERRA (P)—Australia soon will have its first shelter for protection against atomic blast and radiation. The shelter will be the sub-basement of the Commonwealth Secretariat building in Canberra, 300 yards from Parliament House.

Its sub-basement, 25 feet below ground, will provide a store for tons of Commonwealth records and also will provide a shelter from an atomic attack for thousands of people.

Announcement was made today for the sale of reserved seat tickets for the entire five-game home schedule of the Gettysburg High School football team will open Tuesday, September 1, and continue until Friday, September 11, when Westminster will open here against the Warriors.

The tickets, which will be $4.50 each, may be procured by getting in touch with Mrs. Sarah Sandoe at the principal's office in the high school building.

Fans may telephone Mrs. Sandoe, 871-W, who will mark off the seat chart and later purchasers will be informed when their book of tickets will be available.

A chart of last year's tickets has been kept at the high school and those desiring the same seats as a year ago may secure them by simply stating their wishes. As in the past, the reserved seats will be for the choice seats in the northern stands between the 40-yard lines.

Five Advantages
As pointed out by George Forney, athletic director, at least five advantages are to be gained by season ticket buyers: Reserved seats at a low cost ($4.50 for five games); assurance of a good seat at each game; groups may organize and be certain of sitting together; elimination of rushing to games early to secure seats, and concrete evidence of support of the team.

The home games for which tickets will be good include: September 11, Westminster; October 2, Hanover; 16, Shippensburg; 30, Hershey, and November 6, Mechanicsburg. All are South Penn Conference games with the exception of the opening tilt with Westminster.

The Warrior squad of 40 candidates is drilling twice a day at present on the high school field and reports indicate Coaches Howard Shoemaker and Jack Cervino are pleased with the results thus far.

Coach Shoemaker is in charge of the linemen and his new assistant, Cervino, is coaching the backs. Cervino is replacing Ross Sachs on the staff, the latter having accepted a position as a coach at Johns Hopkins.

LEGION DOWNS IDAVILLE 8-3
A six-run outburst in the second inning enabled the Shippensburg Legion to down Idaville 8-3 Wednesday at Shippensburg to even the final playoff series in the Cumberland Baseball League at one game each.

This evening at 6 o'clock the teams will clash at Idaville.

The Legionnaires rapped six singles and a double by Glaser in the big frame which drove Lefty Bill Moul from the mound and brought on Weikert who finished for Idaville.

Dick Kunkleman hurled seven-hit ball for the victors in the six-inning tilt.

Score by innings:
Idaville 1 0 0 0 2-3 7 1
Shippensburg 0 6 0 2 0 x-8 12 1
Batteries: Idaville, Moul, Weikert (2) and Kopp; Shippensburg, Kunkleman and J. Rosenberry.

News Of Special Interest To The Residents Of Emmitsburg And Vicinity

450 STUDENTS EXPECTED AT EMMITSBURG

Approximately 450 students will attend the Emmitsburg public schools when they re-open Wednesday, September 9, it was learned today.

Present expectations are for about 30 more students to be enrolled in the high school than last year, which will increase the student body to about 200. In addition 250 elementary students, about the same number as enrolled last year, are expected for the lower grades in the school.

With major renovations of the building completed over the past several years, few changes are being made to the school structure in anticipation of the 1953-54 school year.

The teachers will meet Tuesday, September 8, for an all-day session preliminary to the opening of school.

New Teachers

Among new teachers for the coming year will be James C. McKeon, of Elizabeth, N. J., a graduate of Mount Saint Mary's College last spring. McKeon, an outstanding basketball player at Mount Saint Mary's while an undergraduate, will handle physical education training for the junior high school students at the school and is also scheduled to conduct a "core" course integrating various studies.

Two other teachers are also being selected to replace two who resigned with the end of the past year. Miss Helen Martin, who taught the Fourth Grade at Emmitsburg school for several years, has resigned to accept a teaching post in a Baltimore County, Md., school.

Mrs. Doris Ziebell, formerly of Gettysburg, and wife of a seminarian here, resigned with the graduation of her husband from the local seminary. She is now employed at New York where her husband is doing post graduate work. She taught fifth and sixth grades at Emmitsburg last year.

WILL AUCTION 2 NEW HOMES

Emmitsburg residents will witness an unusual sale on Saturday, September 5, when two new houses will be offered at public auction by owner Charles Smith.

The modern dwellings just completed and ready for occupancy are situated in Emmitt Gardens on the Taneytown Road. The larger of the houses contains 7 rooms, a bath, a full basement, oil heat with baseboard radiation, and hardwood floors. The living room and kitchen are paneled in knotty pine. The house also has a fireplace, copper water and heat lines and city water.

The second dwelling is a 5-room frame bungalow with three bedrooms and a large living room on the ground floor. It also has a full basement, hardwood floors, a fireplace and city water.

Neither of the houses has ever been occupied.

According to the terms of the sale $1,000 cash will be required for each residence when purchased, the balance in 30 days or sooner, as desired by the purchaser.

It is estimated that since the white men first settled in the United States about twice as much wood has been cut as existed in the original forests of the country.

New Reporter In Emmitsburg

Mrs. Robert Daugherty, 202 W. Main St., has been named the Emmitsburg correspondent of The Gettysburg Times.

A lifelong resident of Emmitsburg, Mrs. Daugherty was graduated from the Emmitsburg High School in 1929 and then attended Towson State Teachers College.

Mrs. Daugherty has been active in most community affairs. She holds membership in the Emmitsburg PTA, the Chamber of Commerce, the VFW and American Legion Auxiliary, and is secretary of the Memorial Hall Association and Art Director of the Federated Women's Clubs. She is also a member of the Elias Lutheran Church.

The Times' newest reporter is also the proprietor and manager of the Utility Shop on West Main St. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, and the wife of Robert Daugherty. The Daughertys have one daughter. Telephone Emmitsburg news to 40-P-2.

MT. ST. MARY'S, ST. JOSEPH'S TO OPEN SEPT. 14

Both Mt. St. Mary's College and St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, will begin the fall term on Monday, September 14, with the registration of freshmen students.

Mount St. Mary's reports freshman registration at approximately 160 students which should maintain class levels at about the same figure as last year. No report is available on St. Joseph's figures.

Rev. Fr. Carl Pines, dean of Mt. St. Mary's, has also announced the names of three new faculty members. Dr. Gilbert L. Oddo has been appointed associate professor of history to succeed William Fitzgerald. Bernard S. Kalisz, who was the Mount valedictorian in 1951 and a Fulbright scholar at the Sorbonne and University of Bordeaux in France, has been named to the English department. Paul F. Conway, a native of Troy and a graduate of Siena College, has been appointed assistant professor of accounting.

In addition Charles C. Curtin, who was on leave of absence during the past year for further studies at the University of Pittsburgh, will return to teach in the biology department.

Orientation programs will be held at both Emmitsburg colleges on the first three days of the new semester in order that students may acclimate themselves to their new surroundings, familiarize themselves with customs and traditions and take a battery of placement and aptitude tests.

NEW LIGHTS ON MOUNT CAMPUS

The Mount St. Mary's campus is sporting a new look with which to greet incoming students. New lights have been erected on all campus lanes and a new sign has been erected at the front entrance.

The new lights have been placed on the front road running from the campus rectangle to the gate. They have also been erected on the Memorial gymnasium road and on the road in front of the semi-

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—Reappointment of Edward G. Fox, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., as Pennsylvania state chairman for the 1954 March of Dimes, was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Paying tribute to Mr. Fox's accomplishments during the 1953 polio fund campaign, Mr. O'Connor said:

"When the great day arrives that we can stamp the word 'conquered' on the crippling disease of polio, much of the credit will go to Mr. Fox and other volunteer leaders like him. At personal sacrifice they are bringing to the struggle not only their time and talents but an inspiring example of idealistic service to mankind."

Mr. Fox, in addition to heading the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., is chairman of the Anthracite Operators Wage Agreement Committee and a member of the Anthracite Production Control Committee under the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce.

He graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1924 with a Bachelor of Science degree in mining engineering. He taught mine subjects at extension schools of State College at Mt. Carmel, Shenandoah and Shamokin from 1932 to 1935.

Mr. Fox resides in Wynnewood with his wife, the former Eleanor Jones of Wilkes-Barre. They have two children, Edward G. Fox Jr., a recent graduate of Lafayette College, and Mrs. Richard B. Ryan, of Orwigsburg, Pa.

nary and church.

Repairs are underway in all the buildings with the repainting of the residence rooms in both college and seminary attracting most attention.

Workmen are razing the GI residences erected at the end of World War II for married students and their families. Of the original nine only five are expected to be in use during the present semester.

It is estimated that when white men first came to the United States there were about eight trillion board feet of timber in the forests of the country.

Australia is erecting a heavy wire fence 135 miles long at a cost of $130,000 to keep emus out of wheat lands.

Postpone Hearing On Gas Service Change

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Sept. 15 public hearing in Lock Haven over a proposal of the Renovo Gas & Fuel Co. to sell natural instead of propane-air gas is under an indefinite postponement issued by the State Public Utility Commission.

The commission took the action yesterday at the request of an attorney who represents the utility. The commission was told by the attorney that Renovo Gas & Fuel is negotiating with Manufacturers Light Heat Co., Pittsburgh, on "matters which may considerably change its (Renovo Gas) natural gas supply situation."

The Renovo firm proposed the switch to natural gas because it believes that would result in greater capacity and more economical operation. It serves 700 customers in the Renovo-South Renovo area.

23 CARS DERAILED

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-three freight cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad eastbound freight train were derailed near here yesterday, blocking traffic for a time on the Bald Eagle Division. No one was injured.

AWOL SOLDIER ADMITS KILLING OHIO OFFICIAL

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—An AWOL soldier today admitted he shot and killed the assistant director of the Ohio Industrial Relations Department last night after the official had given him a ride in his car, the state highway patrol said.

Harold St. John, 25, of Dorchester, Mass., was captured by Highway Patrol Cpl. C. E. Wells a little over a mile from the scene of the slaying on U. S. 40 west of here.

Wells said St. John, AWOL from Camp Atterbury, Ind., since yesterday, admitted he shot Joseph W. Harding, 53, during a struggle in the car when he tried to rob the state official.

At Farewell Party

Harding was killed a short time after he left a farewell party for his retiring chief, Albert A. Woldman. Gov. Frank J. Lausche was reported considering Harding as successor to Woldman, who leaves today to assume a juvenile judgeship in Cuyahoga County.

The patrol said St. John stated Harding picked him up as he hitchhiked on the outskirts of Columbus. St. John had two pistols, .32 caliber and a .45 caliber he had stolen from a guard at a Camp Atterbury stockade yesterday morning, he told officers.

Harding stopped the car in front of a motel about five miles west of Zanesville and shouted, "Call the cops! This guy has a gun!"

Patrolman Wells said St. John was wounded in the leg during the struggle for the gun. Harding was shot twice, once in the head and once in the abdomen.

Saw Killer Flee

Ray Bush, 25, a truck driver of Linden, Ind., heard the struggle and the shots and saw a man flee from Harding's car. Harding's body was found hanging out the car door. The motel attendant had gone inside to phone the sheriff. Roadblocks were set up throughout the area.

Wells, driving a patrol car, spotted St. John coming onto U. S. 40 from the brush about 5:30 a. m. (EST) and took him into custody without resistance. St. John was carrying the .45 caliber pistol in his belt. The other gun was found in the car.

St. John is held at Zanesville police headquarters.

Haynes Admits He Escaped U.S. Draft, Owes Income Tax Bill And Was Married Three Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deportation blues piled up on Crooner Dick Haynes today as he surveyed the discordant score: a second exorbitant charge by the government, and three subpoenas.

The harried Haynes sweated through a 5½-hour preliminary hearing yesterday at which he admitted filing an application for relief from military service during World War II as a citizen of a neutral country. He said he thought the application was only for temporary deferment and "never realized what the effect would be."

His attorneys said they'll fight the crooner's battle with the immigration service to the Supreme Court, if necessary.

Had Earlier Marriage
The hearing also brought out that Haynes had a previously undisclosed marriage—his first—to Edith Harper, also a singer, in Chicago in 1939. It lasted only two or three weeks, he said.

Haynes admitted owing Uncle Sam an income tax bill but said he didn't know offhand just how much. He was told to bring exact

DAD ALMOST GAVE UP HOPE

By The Associated Press
"I had nearly given up hope," said Floyd Weidensaul of Danville, Pa., father of a young repatriated prisoner of war.

Weidensaul's son, Pfc. Floyd N. Weidensaul, 22, was among five Pennsylvanians freed today at Operation Big Switch in Korea.

"That's sure good news," the elder Weidensaul said last night when a reporter gave him the good news. "I had been expecting to hear about his release when the exchange began, but it's getting near the end now and I had kind of nearly given up hope."

The Weidensauls, natives of Danville, returned there last November after living in Hughesville, Pa., for a number of years.

Their son, who was born in Danville, was reported missing in action Dec. 2, 1950. The first word his family had that he was alive was when the Communists released the names of American prisoners they held.

The family received several letters from the young POW, the latest dated in April of this year.

The four other Pennsylvanians released yesterday were: Pvt. Gerald R. Fouts, Universal; Cpl. Charles L. Hedding, Apollo; Cpl. Augustine F. Preite, Philadelphia; and Pfc. Richard E. Cummings, Pittsburgh.

May Reopen Charge Against Spreckels

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Adolph Spreckels II, sugar fortune heir, won dismissal of charges of assault upon his ex-wife Kay Williams, but the case may be reopened.

The court dismissed the charge when Miss Williams failed to appear as the complaining witness yesterday. But Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Parley Smith, who said Miss Williams was too ill to come, said he would refile charges, perhaps in a week or 10 days, when she has recovered.

Miss Williams, former actress, is said to be suffering from a severe concussion. Spreckels, 41, was arrested last Thursday on her claim that he knocked her down and beat her with one of her own shoes after an argument over custody of their children. She was his fifth wife.

Cooking Canadian bacon for Sunday breakfast? Then remember it is lean meat and keep heat moderate so the bacon will not be dry or hard. Heat a little fat in a skillet and arrange the bacon sometimes atop toasted English muffins with poached eggs.

GOVT. WORKERS TALK LANGUAGE ALL THEIR OWN

JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Government workers have a language all their own which visitors from the grass roots sometime find hard to understand.

A new word, born of the current economy drive in federal agencies, is "riff." You hear it in every corridor. If you have been "riffed" you've been a victim of a "reduction in force." In other words, you've been sacked.

"The reason you ought to write about it," a riffed told me, "is that if a person who has been riffed goes into private industry seeking a job, his potential future employer might think a riff is a reflection on his work record, which it is not."

With the new budgets, this riffed person explained, agency personnel chiefs have to cut jobs.

Who Gets "Riffed?"

"Okay," the personnel chiefs say, "we have to get rid of X bodies." (Bodies, meaning employees, is another expression now in general use.)

Who gets riffed and who doesn't is based on retention points gained through seniority of years of civil service work, service in the armed forces, or — in rare instances — special departmental commendation, which about two persons in 500 get, or mention on an agency honor role.

"Say an agency has to get rid of 200 bodies," my friend went on, "The personnel people get to work and investigate the personnel files of all its employees. Then they tally all the points on cards and put the cards in machines which crank and grind and groan until the bodies with the least retention points flop out as the casualties."

Bumping Hurts Many
This may sound simple, but my friend says its very complicated indeed. In setting out to lop 200 people from the payroll, the personnel chief sets a pattern for how many persons will be removed from each salary level. Then the machines indicate the most vulnerable at these levels.

When a riff is rescinded, as is sometimes the case when an agency finds other ways to cut corners, the expression is that the person is "unriffed." Riffing sets up a chain reaction through a process known as "bumping." Uncle Sam's version of musical chairs. A person is bumped by someone with a larger number of retention points. In turn, if the person bumped has civil service status, he bump someone else in his same job category with fewer points. Right now bumping is affecting thousands of government employee and giving harried personnel chiefs their biggest headache.

Does that lemonade pitcher and those tumblers look muggy? Just soak them in warm water in which a little baking soda has been dissolved then wash as usual and your glassware will gleam.

U. S. FACES FIRST TEST ON MAKEUP OF PEACE GROUP

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. S. plans to bar India from the Korean peace conference and admit Russia only on the Communist side of the table faced their first voting test today in the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. expressed confidence he could muster the necessary majority to support the American position. The Soviet Union countered with implied threats that Communist China and North Korea would boycott any conference lineup but the 15-nation "roundtable" demanded by the Russians.

The committee hoped to vote today on four major proposals:

1. Inviting South Korea and the 16 U. N. members who fought in Korea to attend the conference as U. N. representatives.
2. Inviting Russia to attend "provided the other (Communist) side desires it." The Russians oppose being classed with the other side and have proposed an amendment to delete this phrase.

Opposed To India

3. Inviting India to attend. This is the resolution the United States opposes and the British are sponsoring.
4. The Soviet resolution to set up a 15-nation conference: four—the United States, Britain, France and South Korea—from the U. N. Command; the two Communist belligerents—Red China and North Korea, and nine nations classed by the Russians as "neutrals"—the Soviet Union, India, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Indonesia, Syria, Egypt, Mexico and Burma.

It appeared likely that the committee would approve the first two and send them on to the full Assembly for adoption. The Soviet-proposed conference lineup was certain of defeat.

Now that melon is in season, a salad-dessert of melon balls makes a refreshing and delightful ending for a meal. Combine cantaloupe or honey dew melon with water-melon; arrange on salad greens and serve with a favorite dressing. There's a good reason for washing your coffee-maker thoroughly every time you use it: Some oils from the coffee cling to the inside of the pot after the coffee is poured out. This oil film becomes rancid and embitters the coffee if it is not removed.

A teakettle of water kept on the stove will be useful for small cooking needs and save many a step to the sink.

For a quick company dessert, serve fresh peach halves with a spoonful of whipped cream in each cavity; top with a perky sprig of mint.

Internal Revenue Department Is Being Reorganized To Save Time And Wasteful Expenses

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — T. Coleman Andrews, boss of the income tax collectors, is running into criticism as he tries to practice two of President Eisenhower's precepts: more economy and less government centered in Washington.

Andrews, picked by Eisenhower as commissioner of internal revenue, has been cutting out jobs by the hundreds, pulling loose ends of the revenue service together and letting field offices make decisions previously made here.

About 56,000 people work for the revenue service around the country, 5,000 of them in the main Washington office, which has been hardest hit by layoffs: 500 jobs abolished so far here, another 500 to be abolished, more to go elsewhere.

Some members of Congress complain Andrews is not keeping them sufficiently informed on what he is doing and that in his zeal for economy and decentralization he may be overdoing it.

Wants Coordination
One member of the House, De Witt S. Hyde, Maryland Republican raised the question of uniformity in tax decisions by saying the federal tax system could be wrecked if there is not sufficient coordination between the field offices and a central point like the main office here. As an example of what was meant:

Suppose a New Yorker and a Californian had identical tax disputes with the government and each went to his local office for a final ruling. If there was a difference—that is, unless the main office here could make sure the rulings were the same—one of the two men would lose or gain more than the other.

Arguments on Andrews' side go like this: People outside Washington ought to be able to get answers close to home without the delay—and the expense, if they had to hire Washington tax lawyers—involved in coming here for a final decision which might take as long as two years.

In his decentralization program Andrews is letting local offices make decisions which used to come here for final review and approval. In some cases the main Washington office will still give the final answer.

O. Gordon Deik, Andrews' chief deputy, declined any explanation of what is being done. He said the top revenue people wanted to say nothing publicly until they could sit down, perhaps in mid-September, with their congressional critics and give them an explanation.

Avoids Duplications
Actually, Andrews is intensifying and broadening a decentralization begun in the last days of the Truman administration after tax bureau investigations showed a need for some kind of revenue service reorganization.

Before that, almost all of the service's six main divisions had separate field offices and operated pretty much independently of one another, thus making a lot of duplication. For example:

The Collections Division (which audited returns on income under $8,500)—64 district collectors' offices, plus 900 suboffices; the Income Tax Division (whose revenue agents audited returns on income over $8,500)—39 district offices, with suboffices; Alcohol Tax Division—15 district offices, plus suboffices.

Far more miles per gallon on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

MEMO

From: H. E. Meinhold

To: ALL MOTT Growers

August 27, 1953

It is our business to process your fine apples so that they may be ultimately marketed to Mrs. Housewife. The best crops that you grow in your orchards are not really sold until they become food on the table. The chain of events that takes place in the processing, distribution and marketing of your apples is therefore of utmost interest to you, and from time to time we have tried to report to you as to what progress we are making in doing our part of the job.

Each year for the past many years we have substantially increased the volume of apples that we have been able to market for you, and over the period of these years the average return to you for this fruit has substantially increased. The grower of good quality fruit can now be certain of an established outlet through us from year to year. We thought that you might like to know some of the things which have made this possible.

First, of course, is the fact that over the years you have delivered to us apples of fine quality, which in turn we have processed with great care to produce finished apple products of the finest quality possible. To this end, we have continually conducted research to improve methods of processing, packaging and quality control.

Second, we have spent large sums of money continuously over the period of the past many years in acquainting consumers all over the country with the fact that under the MOTT label they can find these fine products. We are attaching to this memorandum a reminder of some of the material that we have used. I am sure that many of you have seen our ads in national magazines such as "Life," "Saturday Evening Post" and "Good Housekeeping," and in the local newspapers. I am sure that many of you have seen the famous "MOTT'S Singing Apples" on television. This famous television trademark has become well known to consumers in all principal marketing areas where television is available, both through "spot commercials" and through many fine programs such as the Charles Laughton Show which we sponsored last year. You may be interested in knowing that we will sponsor a network television show this year—a new show called "Jamie" in which the star will be Brandon De Wilde, who is the child actor well known for his many stage and movie successes such as the picture "Shane." The new show will also feature Ernest Truex, who likewise is familiar on stage, screen and television. We expect "Jamie" will be aired from Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse starting September 28th. We hope that you will enjoy watching it.

Third, we have felt that not only was it necessary to acquaint the public with MOTT products, but also that it was important for you and for us to educate consumers on more and wider uses of processed apple products. Because of this conviction, we spent much time and effort in organizing the Processed Apples Institute, Inc. This Institute in the two years of its existence has done a tremendous job to increase the consumption of processed apples. We are attaching, also, a progress report of the Institute which I think you will find of interest. While the work at the Institute has been costly to its members, we feel that the results have been more than worthwhile and are happy to know that we have been one of the largest contributors to it.

We feel that we are justly proud of the progress that we have made over the past years. Together—you as growers and we as processors of your fruit—we have been engaged in a long-range building program which still has far to go. We expect to continue marketing increasing quantities of your fruit and will follow our policy of paying you the highest price at which we believe your crop can be successfully marketed. In turn, we must look to you to continue furnishing us each year with the fine quality of fruit that we have had from you in the past.

Talk Of Pennant Drives Recalls Thompson's Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the third straight year that New York Giant baseball writers have been writing about a pennant drive for their favorites. Some of the faithful have been looking for another miracle, like the drive the Giants put on in 1951 when they were 13½ games back of the first place Brooklyn Dodgers.

That drive saw 37 victories in 44 games and resulted in the first three-game playoff in major league history. The third and final game, naturally, was the payoff — the game of the decade, at least so far as Polo Grounds press box inhabitants are concerned.

Only 34,320 fans appeared in a park that seats 56,000. Many were discouraged because all reserve and box seats were sold. The reason was advanced that many fans stayed away rather than face a probable crush for unreserved seats.

Tense Struggle

The game went along as most money games, for the feeling existed in the stands that one pitch could decide this struggle between baseball's bitterest rivals.

Don Newcombe and Sal Maglie, then the respective pitching aces of the Dodgers and Giants, pitched winning ball for seven innings. Each had allowed but four hits over that span.

The Dodgers scored in the first on walks to Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider and Jack Robinson's single.

In the second inning, with Whitey Lockman on first via a single, Bobby Thomson drove a hard smash to left field. He became a goat when, running with his head down, he almost ran into Lockman at second base. Thomson was out, Andy Pafko to Reese to Gil Hodges, when he tried to retrace his steps to first base. That boner killed a seeming Giant rally.

In the seventh the Giants tied the score at 1-all. Monte Irvin doubled, advanced on Lockman's sacrifice and scored on Thomson's fly to center field.

Maglie Was Rough

Since the first-inning run, Maglie had been going along so smoothly that no Dodger reached second base during the next six innings. But in the seventh the Dodgers ripped into Maglie with a vengeance.

Maybe it was Carl Furillo's drive that Maglie caught for the first out. Or maybe he was tiring. At any rate, Barber Sal got only two of the next five Dodgers.

Reese singled to right on the first pitch and went to third on Snider's single to right. Reese scored and Snider took third on a wild pitch. Robinson got an intentional walk. Snider scored as Pafko beat out a hit to Thomson at third. After Hodges popped up, Robinson scored as Cox beat out a hit to third base.

Thomson was having his troubles for he, failed to come up with two smashes at third base. The Dodgers went ahead 4-1.

Newcombe mowed the Giants down in 1-2-3 order in the last half of the eighth and it looked like he'd do the same in the last of the ninth.

The fact that Alvin Dark and Don Mueller singled failed to alert even the Dodgers. They were three runs to the good. When Monte Irvin fouled out the Dodger cause looked even better.

Lapse Stilled Crowd

However, Whitey Lockman's double to the opposite field (left) scored Dark and brought the crowd to its feet. Mueller jammed his ankle going into third base on the hit. The lapse had a quieting effect on the crowd. Clint Hartung ran for Mueller who was carried off the field.

In the Giant clubhouse, President Horace Stoneham was trying to give comfort to Maglie, a 23 game winner, who had been knocked out the previous inning and to Mueller who was injured. Stoneham was getting ready to accept defeat.

Clubhouse attendant Eddie Logan asked Stoneham:

"What about the champagne?"

"Give 'em all champagne," Stoneham ordered in a fashion to indicate that it didn't matter who got the champagne. "And give each player his uniform to keep." Stoneham said as an afterthought.

Branca Came In

While all this was going on, the Dodger bullpen was warming up furiously. Press box experts predicted Dodger manager Charley Dressen would call on Clem Labine who had blanked the Giants the previous day. But Dressen called on Ralph Branca, a relief pitcher in 1950 under Burt Shotton but a so-so starter in 1951.

Branca's first pitch to Bobby Thomson was a ball. His second pitch was the ball game, and National League pennant. Thomson parked the ball in the lower left field stands for three runs and a 5-4 decision.

It's still remembered as baseball's most expensive home run. It meant fat contracts to the Giants, plus World Series participation against the Yankees. For the Dodgers it meant despair and World Series money which some Brooklyn players had spent before they could actually count it.

Dodger relief pitcher Clyde King, now with Cincinnati, probably summed up the Brooklyn players' viewpoint best of all when he said:

"When Thomson hit that ball I began thinking in terms of dollar bills. I saw $5,000 go with that ball."

ROBBY GETS $8,000

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Frances N. Hanson, 53, told police a young man walked up to her as she watered her lawn last night, grabbed a money bag containing $8,000 from her bosom, and fled.

She had drawn $6,000 from a bank for real estate investments and added the rest with winning bets at Del Mar Race track Tuesday.

WRONG REFERENCE

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The Engineer Corps has a letter from a Denver firm addressed to Mr. John Martin Dam.

It says, "Your name has been referred to us" concerning a need for high fidelity radio and television equipment.

Helpfully, the corps is forwarding the letter to John Martin Dam — a dam on the Arkansas River in Colorado.

Three American POWs Jailed By Reds After Armistice Are Freed; 150 Yanks Released

By STAN CARTER

PANMUNJOM (AP)—One hundred and fifty Americans rode eagerly from Red captivity today, three of them men their buddies had feared would be kept in North Korean jails on phony charges.

One returning prisoner said 45 more Americans sentenced only a month ago to prison terms were in the Red grouping center at nearby Kaesong awaiting release.

Freed Americans have told of prisoners jailed by the Reds in late July when the armistice was signed on such charges as "instigating against peace." Their sentences ranged from 1 to 3 years.

However, three of the "convicted" came back in Thursday's group of 250 South Koreans and 150 Americans. They were:

Cpl. Charles G. Guidetti, 32, Philadelphia; Cpl. Eugene R. Reilly, 21, New York City; and Sgt. Guy T. Vadala, 23, Stoneham, Mass.

45 In Camp 1

Reilly and Vadala said they and 43 other men in Camp 1 were told they were going to a "readjustment camp" because the Reds "were afraid we would be a bad influence on the others."

They were taken to a separate camp near main Camp 3.

Finally, on Aug. 16, about three weeks after the truce was signed, they were told they would be repatriated.

Cpl. Gerard A. Francois, 23, of Jersey City, N. J., said 30 U. S. enlisted men and 15 officers have arrived in Kaesong after previously being sentenced by the Reds and told they would not be repatriated.

Last To Be Freed

He said the 45 were told in Kaesong they will be freed—but only after everyone else.

However, Francois said the 45 were not all of the Americans being held back by the Communists. He said he believed a few still remain in Camp 5 at Pyoktong, serving their terms.

The Reds had claimed a right to hold some prisoners on trouble-making charges, but U. S. and U. N. officials sharply warned them to free all Allied POWs who want to return.

Thursday's delivery brought the number of released U. S. prisoners past the two-thirds mark with only one week of the POW exchange remaining.

Ten were officers and 140 were enlisted men.

CARPENTERS MAY RETURN TO AFL GROUP

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-week-old secession of the powerful Carpenter's Union from the AFL may soon come to an end now that William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, long the union's top man, is suing for peace.

It was learned that Hutcheson already has conferred with AFL President George Meany about bringing the 822,000-member union back into the AFL fold, perhaps before the AFL's annual convention opens in St. Louis Sept. 21.

Committees representing the carpenters and the AFL's Executive Council also are scheduled to confer within two weeks. Meanwhile, the 69-year-old Hutcheson, one of the AFL's patriarchs, has reportedly called his union's leaders to his Indianapolis headquarters for talks.

Bill's son Maurice, who became Carpenters Union president early last year, suddenly pulled the union out of the AFL at the AFL Executive Council's meeting in Chicago two weeks ago.

Neutral Arranges Meeting

Maurice Hutcheson said in Indianapolis yesterday he had met with Meany Tuesday and agreed to the committee talks. He said the meeting was arranged through a neutral party.

The secession was a protest against the AFL agreeing to a "no-raiding" pact with the CIO. Maurice Hutcheson said the AFL itself hadn't yet set up a system for settling disputes between its own unions.

Meany said at the time he didn't believe this was the real reason, adding that the carpenters were at the root of many of the troubles between AFL unions anyway.

Big Bill, as first vice president of the AFL, was long reported to "run things" on the council when the late William Green was AFL president. Meany succeeded Green as AFL chief last fall and this was the first clash he and Big Bill had.

It is reported that the elder Hutcheson threatened a "walk" as he apparently often did during Green's tenure, but this time Meany, determined to have a showdown, let him do it.

Although the emu was once threatened with extinction, it has come back to the point where it is a pest with a bounty on its beak in parts of Australia.

Wake-Up Church Prizes Spur Rural Activities

By MARGUERITE PRICE
ATLANTA (AP)—Does it sometimes seem to you that church people talk about a better life but do little to improve it?

Do they seem to worry about the state of the savage soul while forgetting that kids in their own town don't have a place to play?

And how about your minister—does he sometimes preach but not practice understanding of all races and creeds?

If the answer is yes move over to make room for professors in the School of Theology at Emory University, Atlanta.

To wake up sleepy churches, Emory announced a series of awards for progress in three fields: church, community and world. Prizes go to churches in 13 southern states.

The project, known as the Town and Country Church Development Program, grew out of another Emory program begun in 1944. Rural ministers of all denominations are invited to attend a three weeks' training school. Emphasis is on the part ministers can play in the agricultural, economic, industrial and social life of their communities.

One of the surprising aspects of the school has been the variety of denominations represented, including the Roman Catholic, Emory is a Methodist-supported institution.

While Negroes do not attend the training school—a professor explains "it would violate Georgia's segregation laws"—a similar three weeks' program for Negro ministers is held at Gammon Theological Seminary in Atlanta.

The two schools hold at least one joint session during the program and exchange discussion leaders.

Dean H. V. Trimble, of the Emory theological school, says that "churches like individuals can become self-centered."

To get the church-award program rolling, Associate Prof. Earl Brewer was appointed director. Then the Sears-Roebuck Foundation set aside $12,200.

The rural church in each of the 13 states showing "the most notable record of achievement" gets a $500 award; one of these, the "rural church of the year" receives an additional $500. There are many $100 awards.

The entries, 1,329 of them represent 36 faiths. If the church people sending in their scrapbooks did nothing but answer the questions in the folder sent them by Emory, a good deal of time would have been spent.

Recreational Facilities

They're asked about recreational facilities in their towns, the number of telephones, whether roads are paved and what the town does to promote better inter-faith, inter-racial and world understanding.

Next, what's being done to improve community life and what is the church's long range plan?

Some are doing a good deal. Others are taking only groping steps—but in many cases, even these tentative moves represent a good deal, when you start from scratch.

In one town, a church committee got every eligible voter to register and arranged to have two doctors visit the town twice a week, the first physicians the community has had.

Another campaigned successfully for better street lights and a cleaner city dump.

One church sent a goat to Korea and one to Okinawa.

One country church in an area not noted for its racial tolerance invited a Negro choir to sing. Another heard two Negro ministers from the Gold Coast of Africa. Summer playgrounds, mobile libraries and United Nations discussion groups have grown up.

Some of these things would have been done anyway but to others the Church Development Program provided a spur.

MERITS OF

SORGHUM MOLASSES

In recent years state and federal agricultural officials have endeavored to convince the American public that "Sorgo Sirup" is a better and more descriptive name than the old-fashioned moniker of "Sorghum Molasses." Apparently that obstinate fellow whom cartoonists call John Q. Public prefers the name which early settlers applied to this delicious and healthful product of sorghum cane. We still like the back-to-earth name of Sorghum Molasses, and as such we want to discuss here two phases of the subject — How to make and store the molasses and why urban housewives should early locate a supply to purchase for over-winter use to round out a sound family diet.

Sorghum molasses is one of the best known sources of iron and minor minerals among inexpensive foods and an easily digested form of sugar. It can scarcely be denied that American health would be greatly improved if housewives should substitute sorghum molasses for a large portion of refined sugar now consumed in the home. Here is one of the finest energy-producing foods.

Cane growers should plan to harvest their cane soon after it reaches the hard-seed stage. It is then that sugar content is highest. And too, while light frosts will not damage cane that is thoroughly ripe, yet growers should watch weather conditions closely and have the cane bladed, topped, cut, and piled beneath covers of leaves when the first frost threatens. Many experienced sorghum growers believe that even light frosts impair the flavor of sorghum molasses. The precaution is worth the taking.

All portions of blades and seed heads should be removed before sap is extracted, else the molasses will suffer off-flavor. Of course, the leaves make excellent cattle roughage and the seed heads may be utilized for livestock and poultry feed and also to sustain birdlife over winter. Quails and other upland game birds relish the nutritious seed.

Two points in the actual manufacture of the molasses must be stressed in this discussion. First, cleanliness is important in extracting and handling the juice, with emphasis on careful settling before evaporation begins. Second, the finished molasses should be canned directly from the evaporator while it is hot.

One of the profitably useful by-products from sorghum cane growing is the bagasse left after juice is extracted. This material may be plowed under to deepen and lighten the soil, or it may be used for bedding stables. It also makes excellent compost when rotted in a flat heap, or it may be saved for summer mulching. One of the most successful sorghum growers the editor knows utilizes all the bagasse for mulching strawberries, turning the accumulations of three years under when he renovates his strawberries by a new planting.

Urban housewives should within the next two or three weeks locate farmers who are growing sorghum cane and engage molasses sufficient to meet family requirements from now until the 1954 crop is coming from the evaporator. This trouble and investment will pay big dividends in improved family health. And is case that war comes it will aid immeasurably in bridging the chasm of sugar shortages.

FACTS ABOUT PEACH BORERS

Every peach tree owner, whether two or three backyard trees or a large commercial orchardist, should clearly understand the seriousness of the large peach borer and know and practice effective control measures. To gain freedom from this danger it is necessary to learn a few primary facts about the enemy.

There are three main groups of borers attacking peach trees in this region: (1) The small shot-hole borer which infests upper branches and is aptly described by its common name; (2) The so-called "Lesser" borer which attacks the upper portion of the trunk and larger limbs; (3) The large borer that infests peach trees at the trunk base and in the large roots. It is this third species that here commands serious study because it is a widespread menace wherever peaches are grown. And too, it can be exterminated most effectively in late September and early October.

Rarely do the first two described peach borers cause more than superficial damage to infested trees, although their ravages are conspicuous by oozing gum and visible evidences of their entrance and exit places. On the other hand, the large borer works out of sight beneath the soil around the trunk base and may actually kill the tree or weaken it so seriously that no fruit is borne.

This foe when it is fully developed is a whitish larva (grub) measuring about an inch in length and well marked with a reddish head. It hatches in late summer from an egg deposited in the soil near the tree base by a large, beautifully marked moth. The chief visible symptoms of its presence are gum and cuttings oozing from the soil around the trunk. It actually feeds in the soft tissues of the trunk base and larger roots. Occasionally yellowing and dying leaves indicate its hidden attacks.

For many years peach tree owners kept this pest under partial control by cutting the larvae out in May. And while this operation was often as damaging to the trees as the continued feeding of the borer, yet it prevented the continuing cycle to produce another generation of egg-laying moths. In the early 1920's paradichlorobenzene came into wide use for combating this enemy and is still popularly employed.

Ethylene Dichloride is the latest chemical weapon and is believed to be more effective and at the same time less dangerous to the tree. It is applied in the form of a solution, the strength and quantity dependent on the age of the infested tree. It should be applied during a period of mild, rainless weather in late September or early October in order to find larvae of the new brood already feeding and thus subject to control.

Every peach tree owner should write his or her Congressman at once for a free copy of Farmers' Bulletin 1246 — The Peach Borer. Please do not ask the editor for this because he has no copies for free distribution. But the editor does invite all questions readers wish to ask on the subject.

Recent advice to combat the large peach borer with DDT is not approved by the editor. His reasons are the same in this case as in recommendations to use this violent poison in the vegetable garden. Until scientists learn definitely the cumulative evils of this poison in the soil and its transmitted dangers to fowls, animals and human beings, it should not under any circumstances be employed. To date no research has been directed toward the determination of its effects on human health.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HOME CANNING...

- To remove air bubbles after filling glass jars, work the blade of a table knife around the sides. Then add more liquid, if needed, to cover food.
- To peel peaches, dip for a minute or two in boiling water, then quickly into cold; slip off skins.
- Never use canning powders or other chemical preservatives — some of them may be harmful. Sterilization by heat is safer and more certain.
- Always store canned foods in a cool, dry place. Excessive warmth or dampness may cause a loss in flavor or even spoilage.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Lots of kids have been treading the scales, judging by their mournful wails.

What to do about a new-found pound seems to be the question. One girl asks: "Should I starve myself for the rest of the summer? Should I go on a diet of black coffee?"

Heavens to Betsy — what's all the excitement over a little pound here or there. So many books have been written about dieting and streamlining the figure that a couple of ounces begin to look like fat-lady circus proportions to some kids.

It is perfectly natural to gain a few extra pounds during the summer months when so much strenuous exercise is likely to make us ravenous. As soon as school begins and worries about calculus and French take the upperhand again, pounds will roll off no doubt. In the meantime, relax.

Make Suit Fit Smoothly

If pounds exceed normal weight by four, there is something you might do just to make that bathing suit fit smoothly for the balance of the summer.

Just try the substitution theory...

Instead of eating creamed chicken, eat a hamburger if you have a choice. Preferably without the bun.

When you are being coaxed to the soda fountain settle for a limeade without sugar or a big glass of tomato juice or orange juice.

If you are on the picnic-planning committee in your set talk up the hotdogs (beef), hamburgers or clams and salad, raw vegetables (wonderful to-munch-on Cauliflower, carrots, radishes, scallions) instead of spaghetti, chili, macaroni salad and devilled eggs.

When Dad suggests ice cream for the family in the evening, pretend you didn't hear as you go out the back door.

Eat More Fruit

Encourage Mom to serve fruit for dessert and to skip those luscious pies and cakes.

Candy and nuts and other treats that you just nibble on because they happen to be there should be put out of sight. Ditto potato chips, cookies and buns.

Instead of any of those sweets eat a piece of fruit. An apple, orange, pear, tangerine, grapes, peaches and cherries are delicious at this time and chock full of vitamins too.

Whatever happens in your homemade diet plant don't give up those daily health foods — milk, butter, vegetables, meat or fish, cheese, fruit, wholewheat bread.

If your hips are showing a few bumps — a little exercise will go a long way to buffing them down, providing you watch your diet. Swimming, bicycling, tennis and hiking are a few of the sports which help keep weight down to par.

Your Child Today— Realistic Note Marks New Toys

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
The Associated Press
Parents often walk into the bathroom to find Junior lathering his face, because he "wants to be like Dad." Or Susan vigorously applying lipstick up to everything including her mother, because she "wants to be like Mommy."
While there are ways in which children gain experience in living, they're rather hard on Mom's and Dad's supplies as well as good nature.
Toy manufacturers seem to think so, too, for this year's Toy Guidance Council's exhibit of new toys indicates that the kids are going to have playthings so authentic in detail and scale that, except for size, it will be difficult to tell the toy from the real thing.
For example, if Mom is about to feed baby, little Susan can plunk down beside her and do the same to her doll, using exactly the same products, cut down to size.
Miniature Products
If Mom does her marketing at the super market, Little Susan can do the same, using a cart and filling it with miniature products similar to those Mom is buying.
Susan can stand right beside her mother in the kitchen and bake the very same food in her own cooking utensils.

In the bedroom, she can apply the same name brand lipstick, facial cream, eye shadow and face powder to her life-size-type doll as Mommy uses, as well as being able to play with a series of new dolls which have such up-to-the-minute costumes as a glamor bathing suit and sun glasses, bathing cap and inflated life preserver. And for the extreme in authenticity, a "dolls of destiny" series has a dozen miniature replicas of historical women in accurate period costumes.
Can Imitate Dad
Nor has Junior been neglected. He can imitate Dad's everyday shaving with his own "electric" shaver. Should Dad go fishing, he can trail along using his very own glass rod and reel set cut down to his size. And watch out for his fire engine this year — it not only is a scale model of a real pumper — but like its counterpart, it squirts water 15 feet in the air!
In addition, his trucks and cars come complete with repair kits, and he can wash them down in his own automatic car wash that sprays water.
Not everything in the toy world is billed, however. Children still go for futuristic items such as a blasting atomic disintegrator gun, a space phone and jet propelled planes.
Among new items on display are construction sets of ships in bottles, battleships, submarines and airplanes. Hollywood's new 3-D fad also has hit toyland. A new cardboard construction set that builds three dimensional birds and animals is called Cineramic.

FALSE TEETH

With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH hold plates firmer and more comfortably. The pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.
